The Right Stuff for Change
collaboration • leadership • identity
Presenter: Toni Prickett

Participants will walk away with:
- Greater sense of the what, why and how of collaboration;
- Focus on "levels of learning;"
- Acquire knowledge and skills to create and support change;
- Understand two types of suspension required for conversation;
- Enhance tools and strategies to support skillful collaboration;
- Expand repertoire of practical facilitation tools.

LOGISTICS: LFKS Fall Institute
The Right Stuff for Change

For More Information and to Register:
https://learningforwardkansas.org

COST: $175 (includes lunch)
Discounts available for LFKS members
LFKS Board Members, and District/School Teams

WHO: Administrators, teacher leaders, coaches learners
LOCATION: Wichita State University Metroplex
5015 E. 29th Street North, Wichita, KS

Leadership is not a role; it is how one thinks and acts. Regardless of your title, YOU are a leader. Building leaders and teacher leaders working collaboratively are critical to success.

Toni Prickett is a Kansas educator and an international Training Associate for Thinking Collaborative, which includes Adaptive Schools and Cognitive Coaching. She is currently facilitating work with many Kansas districts and KLN.

It's an exciting time for education in Kansas as everyone experiences the KESA/redesign process and the changes that are occurring across our state. At the same time, change creates tensions that must be managed. How do we recover from the AYP Hangover and embrace KESA and redesign? Join us for an interactive day of learning that focuses on 3 components: collaborative teaming, leadership & identity. Engage with colleagues who will push your thinking about change and redesign in your district as well as tools you can use tomorrow to foster deeper conversations within your own system.